TRAVEL NOTES FOR A SEAMLESS JOURNEY

LANDSCAPE

Hội An is located in central coast of Vietnam, renowned for its tranquility and beautiful scenery. Besides the city traditional neighborhood and its beautiful yellow walls, Hoi An also has great beaches and green rice fields separated by small roads perfect for bicycle rides.

PEOPLE

Vietnamese people are very friendly and keen to help at any time. Should you have the privilege to be invited into a private home, rice will be served with most meals and the host will give a sign to start eating. Dishes should be passed with both hands, and chopsticks and a flat spoon are widely used as dining utensils. When eating noodle soup, hold the bowl close to your face with the spoon in your left hand and the chopsticks in your right. When you have finished eating, rest your chopsticks on top of your bowl as it is considered bad luck to leave these standing in the food.

WEATHER

Hoi An has a tropical climate with warm temperatures throughout the year. The year is broken up by distinctive wet and dry seasons. The hottest months on average are June and July, when daily high temperatures will be in the mid 30's. Night temperatures during these months are in the mid 20's. The coldest months of the year are December and January. During these months the daily temperatures will be in the lower 20's, and will drop below 20 during the night. The rainy (or monsoon) season in Hoi An is from September until February. It can rain constantly during October to January. There are days during which sunshine is abundant, but they are not the majority. The dry season is from late February until September. These months provide plenty of sunshine and warm temperatures. The occasional thunderstorm can be experienced during these months.

ARRIVAL

Danang International Airport is approximately a 50-minute drive from the resort. It offers direct and connecting services to many large cities such as Shanghai, Bangkok, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Seoul, Beijing, Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City. Danang Central Train Station is also approximately 50-minute drive from the resort.

We are happy to arrange Limousine service to and from the resort, upon request.

TIPS FOR TRAVELLERS

Vietnam currently allows nationals of 23 countries to enter Vietnam without a visa for varying time periods, most of the countries being members of the Association of South East Asia Nations (ASEAN). In general, you must hold a passport valid for 6 months and must obtain a visa in advance if you do not come from one of the visa exempt countries.

If you take an electronic device that does not accept 220 volts; 50 Hz, then you might require a voltage converter.

Learning just a few common phrases in Vietnamese is sure to help you win the smiles of the friendly locals.

It is advisable to avoid public displays of affection. It is also important to never touch a Vietnamese person's head since this is considered a sacred part of the body for ancestors to worship, although the elderly may touch the head of a young child.
